

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Sociology occupies a pivotal place amongst social issues. In developing countries like India, this subject is of prime importance. Despite the fact that on the one hand a developing nation is challenged with many social problems on the other it has to progress through many departmental schemes. To keep pace with progressive dynamic society this subject definitely provides an edge over the subjects.

In our college we have sociology as a subject from the year 1984 that is from the establishment year of college. In the year 2018 post graduation classes has been also started . That's why this year we have registered 30 students in first semester. All seats are full and some students couldn't get admission. Subject matter of sociology is diverse ranging from crime to religion, from the family to the state, from the division of race and social class to the shared beliefs of a common culture & from social stability to radical change in whole societies. Unifying the study of these diverse subjects of study is sociology's purpose of understanding how human action & consciousness both shape and are shaped by surrounding culture and social structures.

For graduation level syllabus of first year has been divided into two papers. First paper is "Basic concepts of sociology" & second one is "Indian society". Students get the basic knowledge of sociology & from the disciplinary stand point they get a fair idea about the structure of Indian society.

Syllabus of B.A. II year has one part as "Social Process & Change" and other part as "Rural, Urban and tribal society". Through these papers student are able to know about social changes & life of rural, urban & tribal societies.

Students of B.A. V and VI semesters are taught ideology of founders of sociological thinkers and basic of research through different activities like preparing questions on various topics Connected with the society and also the way to prepare interview schedule. Student's interview is also conducted in groups. Thus girls are made to understand research methodology, tabulation, statistics, graphs & bar diagrams. Most of the above are taught with the help of teaching tools.

Sociology can help students to understand society better since it examines how the social world influence the way we think, feel & act. It can also help with decision making both our own and that of larger organization. Sociology can gather systematic information from which to make a decision provide insight into what is going on in a situation & presents alternative. Students who have been well trained in Sociology know how to think critically about any phenomenon.

In post graduation level we teach four papers. In first & second semester these are classical sociological tradition, methodology of social research, rural society in India & Urban society in India.

Through classical sociological tradition we introduce students with the theories of Karl Marx, Emile Durkheim, Max weber, Thirstien veblen, Vilfred Pareto, August comte etc & through the paper of social research we introduce students with advance research, research techniques, research method etc. Third paper rural sociology is the branch of sociology which associates with the study of social structure and conflicts in rural areas. It studies the relations of the people who live in the villages. Fourth paper urban sociology deals with the sociological study of life and human interaction in urban area. It is a normative discipline of sociology seeking to study the structure of environmental process, changes and problems of an urban area and by doing so provide inputs for urban planning and policy making.

In third semester of M.A. we teach sociology of kinship-marriage and family, Indian society & culture & Sociological essay as compulsory paper & one optional paper from Industrial Sociology, Criminology & Social demography. In fourth semester we teach Theoretical perspective in sociology, Sociology of change & development, Political Sociology as compulsory papers & students have to choose one optional paper from Industrial Sociology, Criminology & Social demography except these papers we sent students for internship in the field according to their choice & record is maintained.

In the classes lectures are delivered on each topic and the students are made to comprehend each chapter/unit. Questions are asked to them and they try to answer these questions. By this question answer session the entire subject is revised. The important points, name of writers and the name of books to be read by them are written on the board. On completion of a chapter questions are given to the students and they bring written answers. Thus they are taught how to answer questions and as to take down notes in the class. Students are taught different topics through virtual classes by the profound professors of the state.

Examination pattern has been introduced after completion of every chapter, objective question answer are dictated. They are also guided to write short and long answer questions.

As the subject is related to present day burning social problems, misconceptions, challenges and changes, the students are given an insight into this with the help of articles published in the leading dailies and magazines. With the help of analogies and examples the subject is made easy and interesting.

Presently the students get importance on account of many governmental schemes implemented by them, The various department of government- women and child welfare department, social welfare department, tribal welfare department, education department, Nehru Yuva Kendra, offer employment opportunities to the students of this subject. In this college classrooms are provided to the students as per time table to conduct classes. Furniture is also available as per the requirements.

Books related to the subject as per syllabus are also available in adequate number in the library. Besides it reference books are also available in the library. The students are guided and given information about reference books in the library.

Our aim is to complete the course as per time table by the dates. On completion of the course main topics are revised to help the students to face the examination.
